TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Eric Rosenthal. I have had the pleasure of working with him during this academic year here at the Korean International School HCMC. I am his supervisor in the elementary English program, and a colleague in the co-teaching system. In this system Mr. Rosenthal is a 4th grade homeroom teacher, responsible for the students throughout the school day, in addition to his duties teaching English, Math, Science, Social Studies and Language Arts. He has also had the added responsibility of the 4th grade coordinator position thrust upon him, due to the unexpected departure of a senior teacher in the middle of the first semester. The excellent job that he has done is a testament to his ability to adapt to new challenges. His proficiency in the Korean language has been a great asset to his teaching as well.

Mr. Rosenthal is an excellent teacher and a person of high moral character. He is extremely reliable, conscientious, dedicated, and diligent. He draws from a wide range of teaching materials, adapts and develops course material to meet the specific needs of his students, and delivers creative lessons that hold their attention. He realizes the varying levels and learning styles of his students. He strives to accommodate their individual differences, assuring that they all experience success. He does all of this while exhibiting excellent classroom management skills. He has successfully dealt with many difficult student issues, to the benefit of the individual student and to the class as a whole. His pleasant, honest, and mild-mannered personality endears him not only to his students, but to his fellow teachers, the parents, and school administration as well. He is a "team player" and his friendly, easygoing nature makes him a pleasure to work with.

With his degree in English Literature and Rhetoric, I am confident that Mr. Rosenthal would be successful teaching at any level.

I give him my highest recommendation.
